Want to be a full-time agency nurse or work extra shifts around your permanent job?

If you're a skilled neonatal nurse with more than two years' experience we have exciting full- and part-time work in the neonatal units of some of the most prestigious and renowned NHS Trust hospitals in London and around the UK. Especially if you have completed the 405 course and have experience in Level 3 NICUs. Being a full-time agency nurse may offer more flexibility and higher earning power than a permanent role. Or, if you're happy in your permanent role, you can work extra shifts to increase your earning potential.

- Exceptional rates of pay - Up to £500 per shift
- Subsidised hospital accommodation for nurses interested in travel assignments

Little lives are waiting for your care.

"I'm loving it. Perfect placement. Please book me in for more shifts next week..."

Lizzie, Neonatal RN – Working in the NICU of one of the world's leading children's hospitals

"Health Professionals set up an informal meeting with a charge nurse at the neonatal unit they had in mind for me. That spoke volumes on their relationships with hospital management." Janet Rowley, RN/Midwife -
